

SHAPED SHUTTERS

Add design flair to your home

MAKE A STATEMENT

Shaped windows can be a significant feature of an architecturally dressing solution that complements them is often a challenge.

Shaped windows come in many sizes and styles, from angled and arched to circular and triangular. They're an expression of our personal taste and once you've chosen the style for your home you'll want to celebrate your individuality, not cover it up in an ill-fitting and bulky curtain fabric.

Aside from these aesthetic considerations, there are also the practicalities of privacy to be considered, and combating heat loss or gain through the changing seasons. Finding a complementary, practical and efficient solution will be vital to the continuing pleasure that these windows will provide, and Santa Fe are the window dressing experts with the broadest range and the widest experience.
